BHS Redmen Grapplers Capture Second Straight Win

Coach John Halter's Bellevue High School grunt and groan squad notched its second straight dual meet win; by stomping over Cloverleaf in Medina County, Tuesday, 27 - 16.

This was an important win for the local team. This is the first season that Bellevue High School has established a wrestling program.

The Redmen Matsmen now have a season record of two wins and three defeats The squad lost its first meet at Pt. Clinton, when it was defeated 36 - 13, and next bowed to the Mohawk Warriors, 34 - 11.

The Bellevue team showed considerable improvement in a meet against a highly respected Huron team, but suffered its third defeat by a score of 25-21.

It became apparent, when the local squad went against Perkins, that the Redmen had finally found their strides, as they shut - out the visitors, 53 - 0, by winning every event.

The Redmen grapplers will return to action Feb. 3, when they entertain Mohawk at Bellevue High School. The Mohawk team is riding on an eight game win streak, and has never been defeated in a dual meet

World's Fastest Skiers In Olympic Competition Today

INNSBRUCK, Austria (UPI) —The fastest men in the world on skis flash down the icy slopes of Patscherkofel Mountain at nearly 70 miles an hour today in the downhill speed championship of the ninth Winter Olympic Games.

Ski experts studying the "extremely fast" track, man-made because there has been no snow for more than five weeks, said the winner would have to have a high degree of technical skill and experience. They made world champion Karl Schranz of Austria the favorite

But they admitted that rarely has the field been so wide open for any ski master who can tame the tricky curves and bends of the 3,120 meters course The names of several dark horses were mentioned among the contenders, including Billy Kidd of Stowe, Vt., and Bud Werner of Steamboat Springs, Colo.

Kidd has the distinction of being the first American ever to lead off the race. Werner, who was seeded with him in the first 16, goes off in eighth position

Europeans Are Favored

But the Europeans are confident the winner will come from this side of the Atlantic and if it isn't Schranz it might be his countryman Egon Zimmerman or Guy Perillat of France or Wolfgang Bartels of Germany or Joos Minsch of Switzerland

The downhill race is the big event of the second day of the ninth winter games officially opened Wednesday by President Adolf Schaerf of Austria in colorful ceremonies before a crowd of 60,000 in the scenic Bergisel Ski Jump Stadium on the edge of town.

Two other finals will be decided today — the men's 30-kilometers cross-country ski race and the ladies 500 meters speed skating.

Russia opened its campaign Wednesday night to become overall leader in medals once again when its veteran figure skating pair of Oleg Protopov and Ludmilla Belousova upset the world champions, Hans-Juergen Baeumler and Marika Kilius of Germany, by less than one point

Form Prompts Cheers

The Russians turned in an almost faultless display that forced a capacity crowd of 11 - 000 in the Olympic ice stadium to cheer although its sympathies were with the handsome young German couple

The Germans were not in their best form and had to be content with the Silver Medal A Canadian pair, Debbi Wilkes and Tony Revell, were third Fourth place went to Vivian and Ronald Joseph of Highland Park, Ill., and Denver, Colo

Although the United States has at least a chance in the downhill ski race the Yanks were not even longshots in the 30 kilometers grind, a Scandinavian monopoly only recently threatened by Russia. The favorite over the course at nearby Seefeld today is Eero Maentyranta, a 26-year-old policeman from northern Finland who can always get his man if it comes to a chase on skis

Church Fives Continue Play

Play in the Church Basketball League continued Wednesday night at the YMCA.

In the first contest of the evening the UCC team won over the Nazarenes, 72 - 66, after taking the lead in the first period and continuing out in front in scoring for the remainder of the game.

The high scorers in this game were Fran Fields, of the losing team, with 27 points, and Dave Kuhn, of the UCC squad with 26 points.

The second game resulted in a 51 - 39 victory for the EUB team over the Lutherans.

Doug Smith of the winning club totaled 22 points, while Doyle Engler, of the Lutherans, gathered 20 points, as the high scorers of the game.

The Congregational - Methodists captured a win in the final contest by defeating the St. Michael quintet, 35 - 22.

Only one player in the final tilt broke into the double column in scoring. He was 'Jiggs' Barr, of the winning squad, who gathered 13 points.

In standings, the Catholics have a record of seven wins for this season. The other teams have the following results. UCC, 7 wins, 1 loss; Congregational-Methodists, 5 wins, 3 losses; EUB, 4 wins, 4 losses; Lutherans, 2 wins, 5 losses; Nazarenes, 2 wins, 6 losses; St. Michael's team, no wins, 8 losses.

Warriors At Thompson School Friday Evening

Hopewell - Loudon cagers will invade Thompson School, Friday evening, with hopes of capturing their 12th win of the season This will be a Seneca Co League contest.

In the first meeting of the two teams earlier this season the Warriors, at Bascom defeated the Thompson Tigers, 86 - 55.

The high scorer of the Hopewell - Loudon team is a junior, Ron Crum, 6'2' center, who has a season scoring average of 16.8 points per game

Jim Ombor, 5'10" forward, outscored Paul (The Perfect) Steffani, when his team met Bettsville earlier this year He is an outside shooter

Others on the Hopewell - Loudon team who could be starters Friday, are as follows: Steve Creeger, 6' forward, Paul Porter, 6' guard, Ed Schubert, 5'10" guard, and Russ Crum, a sophomore who plays in several positions. Another good point gainer on the squad is Carl Danenberg

Thompson Starters

Denny Orwig, and Jim Klein, could start as forwards for Thompson, Friday Rich Bollenbacher, will probably hold down the pivot position, while John Buck, and Buddy Wicker, act as guards.

Others on the squad are Ned Bollenbacher, Tom Kutz, Leonard Dale, Ralph Rickle, Vaughn Riffle, Dale Kisiter, and Jim Henney

Jacobs, Sifford Lead In 90-Hole Golf Play

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) — Pro golf's marathon—the 90-hole Palm Springs Classic—goes into its second round today and the ostensible individual leaders are Tommy Jacobs and Charlie Sifford

Jacobs, a 29-year old University of Southern California graduate, and Sifford, the 40-year old five-time Negro Open golf champion, both scored 66s Wednesday in the start of the tournament involving 128 pros and 384 amateurs — a total of 512 golfers - on four courses in this desert playground

Each pro plays with a different amateur threesome for the first four rounds and then the pros go it alone for the fifth and final round

Low Best Ball

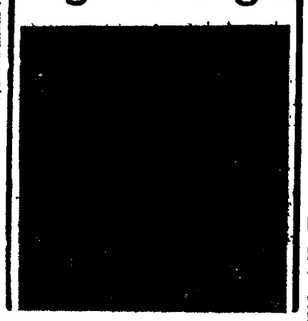

Money prizes have been put each day for low pro and for the pro whose amateur team—with handicaps — gets the lowest best ball score

Jacobs picked up a total of $295 in this intricate scoring system but he's shooting for the $7,500 first prize at the end of 90 holes

Sifford won a total of $437 50 in pro and pro-am scoring

Angler's Angle

This is the 'fun time' for fishermen, who enjoy catching perch - and more perch. . . . .Heading the list of Bellevue anglers who bagged the big ones last week were Bob Stark, Castalia St , and Ray 'Dutch' Koechley, McKim St . . According to Stark the two men fished on the ice between Catawba Island and Mouse Island, starting at noon Thursday. . . . . .The anglers first caught many smallish perch, but later the Jumboes started to hit . Before they knocked it off for the day, they had approximately 110 fish between them, all measuring from nine to 11 inches in length . . Stark also reported there were so many Smelt biting, it was difficult to get the hooks underneath them in deeper water, where the perch were lurking

If we were asked to select the "leading' ice - fisherman in Bellevue, we would not hesitate to name Harold Shelley, custodian of Bellevue High School . . . In fact this gent catches so many fish through the ice each year, it would be interesting to know just how many . Only last week, Shelley, in the company of Lowell Rossman, BHS teacher, and another gent, caught a huge quantity of perch off shore, near Catawba Island

Unfortunately, because of recent warm weather, the ice on Lake Erie, is now honeycombing which means 'danger' to fishermen in any language.

We were speaking to a patrolman at the Bay Bridge state police post this week. . . and learned that only a few ice-fishermen have been rescued so far this season . This took place when the ice started to move several weeks ago, and a group of die - hards, found themselves floating on a large ice - pan. . The policeman also said there have been no "deep-freeze" anglers overcome by heater fumes in fishing shanties so far this year. . . Last year there were several who forgot to vent their stoves.

We have often wondered why fishermen, who do ice - angling, and do not own shanties, could not use battery - heated snowsuits, such as worn by men in the Air Force? These suits are not as expensive as an ice-shanty, and operate on a small battery carried in a pocket.

Frick Endorses Proposed Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Baseball Commissioner Ford C. Frick said today that football, hockey and basketball should enjoy the same exemptions under the anti-trust laws as the national pastime

Frick told the Senate momopoly subcommittee that organized baseball believed all professional sports "should receive equal treatment under the law."

But he cautioned against undermining baseball's present position because the sport "by its conduct through the years, has proved its right to continue its unique form of self-enterprise by orderly self-regulation

In a prepared statement Frick strongly endorsed legislation which would put basketball, football and hockey on the same footing — in regard to anti-trust laws — as baseball

Frick was scheduled as the second witness at the opening of hearings on the legislation

Under the proposed bill, anti-trust regulations would not apply to agreements and rules pertaining to the equalization of competitive player strengths, the employment, selection or eligibility of players, or player contracts, geographical rights, the power of the sports of self policing

Leadoff witness George Selkirk, general manager of the Washington Senators, recommended passage of the bill in a brief prepared statement

"As a former player myself," Selkirk said, "I find all aspects of baseball under the past and present governing regulations reasonable and equitably to all participants "

Baseball's present exemption stems from a Supreme Court decision of 1922 which was reinforced by an opinion in a 1953 case. Neither decision covered other sports

Frick said he hoped Congress would pass a bill and "bring to these sports enterprises the immunity from legal harassment that the unique nature of their operations require "
